Have you had an accident involving a recreational boat? Have you been injured on board or on your way to or from a boat? Fallen over on the jetty?

In that case you can help us prevent it happening to others!

This emergency room cooperates with the Swedish Transport Agency to reduce the number of people injured while boating, but we need your help. We believe that the injured persons themselves are the ones best suited to describe what happened and why. By giving us your account, you will help us get a clearer picture of how many people are injured while boating, and how and why they are injured. The information you share with us will be kept in Strada, a national database of injuries and accidents. The data collection serves three purposes:

- Plan, follow-up, evaluation and quality control: Municipalities, boat clubs and other organizations have an interest in understanding what happens, what causes the accidents, and what can be done to improve the safety of harbours and maritime installations used by recreational boaters.
- Research on boat safety: Universities, research institutions and the industry use the information to contribute towards safer boats and boating.
- Statistics: The information is used for follow-up of the Swedish transport policy goals. It is also for international comparisons.

To contribute, please hand your completed form to an emergency room representative. Thank you for your help and cooperation!

Where did the accident occur, and what happened?

In order to find out where we have to improve safety, we need to know as exactly as possible where the accident occurred. If you know the coordinates of the place, please state them on the form.

In addition to giving us information about the boat, we would be very grateful if you could sketch out the area where the accident happened, with names of islands, harbours, landmarks or other objects that can help us find the place. Write a short description of what happened before, during and after the accident. Also, we are very interested in finding out how you think the consequences of the accident might have been made less severe, or how the accident could have been avoided altogether.

Supplementary information

The information that you give us here will supplement the medical records concerning your accident. Filling out this form is optional, but if you do, it will give us valuable information that we can include in the national database Strada, mentioned above. Please return your completed Injury Record Sheet to staff in the emergency room!
